Generous people like you help fund the program along with contributions from Edison International shareholders and employees.

Who contributes to EAF?

EAF helps SCE customers who are income qualified. These donations also fund Crisis Assistance which helps elderly and disabled customers.

Who receives assistance through this fund?

SCE's EAF program has been helping thousands of people in need pay their electricity bills for more than 25 years.

SCE's Energy Assistance Fund (EAF)

How can you help?

Make a contribution today by sending your EAF donation in this envelope. Please make your check or money order payable to EAF. If you prefer to make your contribution using your credit card, visit www.sce.com/cal. All contributions are tax deductible. Your canceled check is your receipt.

How are the funds distributed?

United Way of Greater Los Angeles works with community based agencies to help distribute the money to qualified SCE customers throughout our service territory.

*SCE's Energy Assistance Fund has assisted more than 181,000 households.
Your support – large or small – helps ensure that customers in need within our community have their electricity bills paid.*
